
Queen of Creation

Monday August 27, 2007 7:30 am CT, this morning in the Field. In the midst of harvest season, Our Lady speaks in many ways as fall approaches.

August 25, 1999

“Dear children! Also today I call you to give glory to God the Creator in the colors of nature. He speaks to you also through the smallest flower about His beauty and the depth of love with which He has created you. Little children, may prayer flow from your hearts like fresh water from a spring. May the wheat fields speak to you about the mercy of God towards every creature. That is why, renew prayer of thanksgiving for everything He gives you. Thank you for having responded to my call.”

All Creation and its creatures give Glory to God. Creation is not to be worshiped, rather, to prove the reality of God and so to honor Him. This morning because of the fog and the eerily way the sun was shining through we decided to take a picture for mej.com. However when we went to the Field, a large hawk was perched as a crown for the Queen of Creation. Through the little window, you get a glimpse of how Our Lady so often speaks to us here.
