* We have attempted to make a very exhaustive listing of Apparition time but due to changing local and national customs your local area may not follow or may change time zones which will not be reflected in this chart. For a current listing of Apparition times go to mej.com and click on Questions and Answers the 57th Question is "What time is my Local Apparition time?" click on this question. And your computer will give you your time from where you are online at.

Daylight Savings Time

If your city, state or country follows Daylight Savings Time, Apparition time changes as well. For example in Caritas, Alabama, USA Apparition time is normally 11:40 am. During Daylight Savings time since we set our clocks back one hour, Apparition time is also set back one hour making it 10:40 am. Change Apparition time in the same way that you change your standard time.

If the place that you live does not follow Daylight Savings Time then Apparition time does not change for you year round.
